

Missions

The Royal Thai Armed Forces Headquarters has the responsibilities to plan, develop and implement the command and control system of the Royal Thai Armed Forces to be able to connect and exchange information among the units at government and ministry levels as well as the units in the Ministry of Defence. It also assigns the responsibilities to the Services and relevant units.